INTEREST IN THE INSTITUTE

IS DEMONSTRATED BY ATTENTION OF TEACHERS.

Dr. Groff Gave a Talk on the Origin of Soils—Prof. Monroe on Child Study, and Mrs. Wilson, Nature Study—At the Afternoon Session, Mrs. Wilson Gave Her Final Talk on "The Spirit of the Kindergarten in the Primary School"—Notes of the Institute.

There has been much said about inattention of the teachers at the institute. Like Mark Twain's statement about the report of his death, it has been greatly exaggerated. People who come in from outside and the speakers themselves declare that they never saw as quiet an assembly.

The institute has been of unusual interest, and Dr. Phillips has been receiving congratulations on all sides for his judgment in the selection of instructors and the unusual quiet which prevails in that break of an auditorium.

The speaker's platform has been a movable one. Yesterday it migrated down from the stage, as it was thought that the lecturers could be better heard. One of the cleverest instructors who has ever visited Scranton is Miss Connelly, who has been giving talks on the "Synthetic Phonics Word Method."

One of the best proofs of her success is that there has been a rush for her book on this method and that it has had an unprecedented sale among the teachers, who are very enthusiastic over this pretty and graceful young woman. She gave her last talk yesterday.

Dr. Groff talked on a very hard subject the previous day, "Rocks." He continued yesterday morning with a lesson on "The Origin of Soils," which was heard with interest.

CHILD STUDY.

Professor Monroe gave one of his fascinating talks, this time on "Child Study." If there is a subject upon which this versatile gentleman cannot lecture intelligently it hath not yet appeared what it shall be. Apropos of "Child Study" it might be mentioned that he is still a bachelor.

Mrs. Wilson gave a "Nature Study" address, which was one of the best in the course. Miss Connelly was most interesting in a talk on "Advanced Arithmetic."

The afternoon session was opened with music and Mrs. Wilson gave her final talk, "The Spirit of the Kindergarten in the Primary School."

Professor Monroe gave an address on "Lessons from European Schools," which was heard with the closest attention. He spoke of the difficulty experienced in visiting foreign schools where all sorts of obstacles are thrown in the way. Indeed a visit to a public school in Germany rises almost to the dignity of an international incident.

Once permission is gained the visitor is shown every courtesy rather more than in this country. The German schools have perhaps been overpraised, the French schools undervalued.

TEACHERS IN GERMANY.

In Germany every teacher must be a normal graduate. That is where the United States is deficient. The normal schools here do not have as high a standard of admittance as they should. A four years' course in the high school should be required and the normal training should include one or two foreign languages. Compulsory education in this country does not compel. It does in Germany, the fines which the parents must pay are so very severe that the children are never sick, never needed at home.

Miss Estelle Loomis, our gifted young townswoman who has had such a flattering success in her dramatic career, gave two recitations which were exceedingly well rendered. She recited "Kissing Cup's Race," and as an encore, "The Old Front Gate." Her lithesome figure and attractive face add to the effect of her dictionary work.

Miss Connelly gave as her afternoon subject, "Busy Work in School." It was an interesting and valuable talk. She spoke of the bewildering problem of classification which confronts the teacher, and the difficulty of finding occupation for the various types of intelligence in school.

After stating that copying is not always successful busy work, she related an instance after instance illustrating the matter and convulsed her auditors during the entire period. She warned against too much work that overwhelms the child and causes him to give it up entirely. She emphasized the need of looking after the result, and not ignoring the work which the children have completed.

INSTITUTE NOTES.

Miss Connelly is accompanied by her sister, whose home is in Washington, D. C.

School Controllers A. L. Francois and Otto D. Schriefer attended yesterday's sessions. Rev. C. H. Newing, of Dunmore, was also among the visitors.

Dr. Graff visited the International Correspondence schools yesterday afternoon.

D. C. Powell, father of the late Prof. Powell, of No. 14 school, visited the institute yesterday.

T. J. Jennings, chairman of the high and training school committee, visited the institute yesterday afternoon.

Professor Monroe gave a dinner last night at the Jermyn in honor of Superintendent and Mrs. G. W. Phillips.

A. P. Flint, of Philadelphia, representing the American Book company; John J. Mathies, of Mahanoy City, of the Standard & Co.; Mr. Moore, of Philadelphia, of Appleton & Co., are regular attendants at the institute.

Miss Connelly has endeavored herself to everybody by her common sense talks. She is one of the most cultured women in America, but gives herself no airs in that respect. It is not generally known that she assisted Dr. Jacques Redway in the preparation of his famous geographies. Miss Connelly is accompanied by her sister, who is at the Jermyn.

We take pleasure in announcing the arrival of the Daylight Developing Machine, and consider it the greatest invention in the line of photographic apparatus of the century. We have arranged with the Eastman Kodak company to have a demonstration in our store Saturday afternoon and evening, September 5. If you wish to demonstrate this machine on your own films, bring them with you.

MACHINERY MOVED AWAY

Scranton Wood Working Company Has Gone Out of Business—Building Is to Be Sold.

The Scranton Wood Working company, which for many years represented one of this city's flourishing industries, is no more. Work was ceased at the mill at 520 Penn avenue, last May, and the entire plant with the exception of the machinery, which has already been purchased, is for sale.

The company during late years consisted of the late H. C. Hinman and Charles Henwood, and D. K. Oakley. Mr. Hinman was president and Mr. Henwood treasurer. By the deaths of these two officials all the cares of management and the entire responsibility devolved upon the one survivor of the firm, D. C. Oakley, of Dunmore.

The latter is advanced in years, and as the company's liabilities were heavy, and business prospects partially dejected by the strike, Mr. Oakley decided to suspend work and sell the plant, by doing which all obligations can be satisfactorily met.

The machinery was sold to the Buffalo Tool and Machine company for something over $5,000. Secretary-Treasurer Charles Wood, of the Buffalo company, was in the city yesterday supervising the removal of the purchased machinery. The work will be completed today. About fifty lathes, planers, shapers, and other wood working machines were bought.

The ox team of Abram Roberts, of Throop, was employed in carting the heavy, unwieldy contrivances to the Lackawanna freight depot, and the appearance on the streets of the calm, placid looking animals and their rural driver, attracted considerable attention. The Buffalo Tool and Machine company is a firm which deals almost exclusively in wood working apparatus. It has also purchased W. H. Foster's plant at Seelyville, and arrangements are being made for shipping the machinery from there.

The original partners in the wood company were Messrs. Hinman and Henwood, and H. A. Kaufhold. The latter sold out his interest twelve years ago to Mr. Oakley.

APPLICATION FOR FRANCHISE

CONSIDERED BY COMMITTEE OF COMMON COUNCIL.

Stockholders of the Lackawanna Light, Heat and Power Company, Which Wants the Right to Lay Conducts, etc., in the City Streets, Are Not Named—Former Judge J. W. Carpenter Says That They Are Philadelphians—Opinion Expressed by Councilman H. E. Paine About Company.

The light and water committee of common council met last night, and after discussing the ordinance granting a franchise to the Lackawanna Light, Heat and Power company, decided to take no action upon the matter before the terms of the ordinance were rearranged, and a number of points now rather dubious cleared up.

None of the members of the committee were aware of just who the Lackawanna company is, and former Judge J. W. Carpenter, who was present to spread light upon all matters connected with the terms of the ordinance, allowed the company to remain in ignorance on this important point, only informing them that the stockholders were Philadelphians, fully able to support a company.

He stated that he was indeed ignorant of their names himself, and was acting as attorney at the request of local representatives.

Mr. Paine suggested that the following tax rate be embodied in the ordinance: Beginning with 1905, two per cent; in 1906, three per cent, and a gradual increase until a permanent five per cent rate is reached, in 1910. "Oh, no, that's too much," broke in Former Judge Carpenter. "You can't expect us to support the city entirely."

The committee approved of the suggestion, and Judge Carpenter noted the objections already made, with others, stipulating a time limit for the construction of the plant, and providing for free lights to all city buildings. Before the meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of the chairman, Mr. Paine made a rather interesting statement, when he said:

"I know what this scheme is and who the people in back of it are. It's the same corporation that has bought all that land up at Paupack, thus gaining control of a splendid water power, and is now preparing to shed electric lights all over Northeastern Pennsylvania. They are going to run a wholesale light business."
